Administrative Rules of Montana

- Administrative rules are agency regulations and standards used to implement, interpret, or set policy.
- Administrative rules are developed under a process outlined in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.
- That Act requires state agencies to provide notice to the public when they wish to adopt, amend, or repeal administrative rule.
- The notices are compiled in the Montana Administrative Register (MAR).
- Once adopted, administrative rules are published in the Administrative Rules of Montana (ARM).

ARM's continued

- Administrative Rules of Montana are one of the sources of regulation materials that Medicaid uses, along with Montana Code Annotated (MCA) and Code of Federal Regulations (CFR)
- Secretary of State has a new website they recently unveiled.
